Buggy and Carriage Your will is in itself a demand upon the most strenuous efforts. Every country of art and ingenuity has contributed to make this occasion an exhibit of a "World's Fair." An acre of flooring is found insufficient to give full display. Days can be spent here and not see all that's to be seen. Time in this house is your own and you can spend it as you please. The golden rule of "everything in plain" figures" to tell its own price. - Story.

SIX HUNDRED AND FORTY-SEVEN VISITORS COUNTED AT ONE TIME ON TWO FLOORS AND NO VISIBLE CROWDING—COMFORT AND SHOPPING COMBINED. LOOK FOR WHAT YOU WANT OR WHAT YOU DO NOT WANT—THE ODD, THE QUAINT, THE OUTLANDISH, OR THE USEFUL. IF A GENEROUS MACHINE OR DAINTY FINGER HAS MADE THEM THEY ARE HERE. THE CUTELY-CONTRIVED MIND OF ECONOMY FINDS A BOON HERE AS NOWHERE ELSE. LIBERAL EXTRAVAGANCE, A TRACK THAT PERMITS OF NO EBROR. TO SECURE THE MOST NOVEL OF THE NOVELTIES THERE IS LITTLE TIME TO LOSE.

Look at our show-windows—most artistically and beautifully dressed. Just pause on the right of the main entrance and see our SNOW SCENE. So natural is it that it seems Nature herself has wrapped the borse to be snowly garments, pared the steps with Caraca marble, and also piaced in the purch our "antid (owied) asquaintance" to welcome our many friends. The Gentlemen's Furnishing Window is complete in itself and has only to be seen to be apprecised. But in order to see the most attractive as well as the most novel and wonderful article in the holiday display come to the rear of the FIRST FLEOR, CENTRE. Here is the most wonderful piece of mechanism ever displayed in America—A WOODLAND SCENE, the result of NINE years of NINE years, and was one exhibition in Paris. When you so the swan salling in the placed take, the bird bathing its brilliant plumings in the river, and the sengsters singing in the branches of the flowering tree, you are not surprised at the exclamations, "How wonderful!" "How beautiful!" &c., that burst from the beholders. And only think! You can always have an "Austrian Woodland Scene" for the sum of $300, Japanese Table-Naprine 15c. per dozen. Just ;
